

A member of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association may have the exclusive use of a farm name as prefix or suffix in naming and registering cattle, provided such name has not been previously reserved by a member of the Association. If several breeders have used a name, the senior user must be given the opportunity of reserving it before another member can do so. The use of a farm name is restricted to animals bred by or born on the property of the owner of the farm name.

RESERVE YOUR NAME TODAY... Enjoy the satisfaction that comes with having the exclusive use of your farm or herd name in registering your cattle. Reap the advertising rewards that should be yours as animals, bred by you with your distinctive farm name on their registry certificates, are shown or sold at auction or private sales. Another breeder may decide to use the same name tomorrow!

Fill out the form below and mail it back to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association. Please enclose your $50 farm prefix reservation fee.
