Just A Cow

From time-to-time people tell me, 'Lighten up, it's "just a cow" or That's a lot of money for "just a cow." They don't know the distance traveled, the time spent or the costs involved for "just a cow". Some of my proudest moments have come with "just a cow"

Many hours have passed and my only company was "just a cow" but I did not once feel slighted. Some of my saddest moments have been brought about by "just a cow" and in those days of darkness, the gentle touch of "just a cow" gave me comfort and reason to overcome the day.

If you too, think it's "just a cow" then you will probably understand phrases like "just a friend", "just a sunrise" or "just a promise". "Just a cow brings into my life the very essence of friendship, trust and pure unbridled joy. "Just a cow" brings out the compassion and patience that makes me a better person. Because of "just a cow" I will rise early, stay in the barn for hours and look longingly into the future. So for me and folks like me, it's not "just a cow" but an embodiment of all the hopes and dreams of the future, the fond memories of the past and the pure enjoyment of the moment. "Just a Cow" brings out what's good in me and diverts my thoughts away from myself and the worries of the day.

I hope that someday they can understand that it's not "just a cow" but the thing that gives me humanity and keeps me from being "just a human".

So, the next time you hear the phrase "just a cow", just smile...because they "just don't understand".

PRESIDENT'S CORNER...

As we start the new year, there is no better way to showcase the quality of Milking Shorthorn cattle than by highlighting the 2023 All-American contest. We saw an increase in AA participation this year, with tremendous quality throughout both the junior and open contest. Congratulations to all breeders and exhibitors!

Membership renewal invoices have been sent via email. To receive a delegate ballot, you must have paid your AMSS membership by March 31, 2024. We also need updated state membership lists sent to the national office.

To protect the integrity of our herd book, the AMSS performs random DNA and or Genomic testing on one out of every 100 females registered and one out of every 25 ET females registered. If you receive these DNA/Genomic kits you MUST send hair/tissue samples to the respective lab. Effective January 1, 2023, all donor dams must be DNA and Genomic tested before registering offspring from flushes.

I hope everyone is excited to visit New England in June for our national convention. They have put together a great schedule that is sure to be enjoyed by all who attend. New England will also be putting together a great national sale. Please reach out to Greg Clark, or a committee member, with your consignment(s).

As always, thanks to Kate and Kathy for keeping the AMSS moving forward. We also could not do it without the support of board members and countless volunteers who put AMSS first. ■

FROM THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY . . .

A new year brings new beginnings. What will 2024 bring for the AMSS? At our winter board meeting there were many conversations about challenges, many of the same challenges you are facing on the farm. Your board also made some tough decisions, for example:

- A new fee sheet was made effective 1/1/24 which includes increases in pricing

- The AMSS will no longer have a booth at WDE
- The AMSS will no longer be a member of USLGE
- The Bull Book fees will increase
- Beginning 1/1/24 all junior membership funds will be deposited into the AMSS General Fund

The 2023 All-American contest was, once again, full of high-quality Milking Shorthorn cattle. As we celebrate this accomplishment, I would like to congratulate all breeders and exhibitors. Every year this contest brings out the best in the Milking Shorthorn breed.

The junior contest had 130 entries and Halpin's Muddy Rockstar TW was the leading sire. Many of the junior nominees hailed from the state of Wisconsin.

In the open contest there were 151 entries. Top sires include Innisfail Mega Lottery, Halpin's Muddy Rockstar TW, and GI2 Goldmine MD Justice*CD. Again, Wisconsin came out on top for nominations.

The New England Milking Shorthorn society is putting together a convention filled with farm tours, a sale, and a lot of time spent with Milking Shorthorn friends. Information can be found in this issue of the magazine. They also have a Facebook page with all the up-to-date information.

Cheers to a new year and optimism for things to come. I hope you will participate and engage with the AMSS this year in ways that inspire and excite you. ■

To administer the Society to effectively use the information generated by the breeders to aggressively market our breed.

I hope everyone is enjoying the New Year so far, especially with the announcements of the 2023 All-Americans. Congratulations to everyone who had nominations!

As you may have seen, the national convention this year is in West Lebanon, New Hampshire. I hope to see a lot of juniors in attendance. There will be farm tours, a national sale, and a junior national show! I encourage juniors to attend and be part of the fun activities planned as well as our junior meeting. At the meeting, you can learn more about the society, the breed, meet fellow juniors, and maybe even become a new AMSJS officer! For more information follow the AMSJS Facebook page or look on the AMSS Website.

Queen's CORNER

Queen Savanna Semrad

The dust has finally settled from all the shows in 2023! I enjoyed my last show of the 2023 show season at the North American International Livestock Exposition. Congratulations to all the exhibitors who exhibited in 2023.

Congratulations to all the amazing All-American winners. I am looking forward to the 2024 show season. I can't wait to see everyone again real soon. ■

YOUTH SPOTLIGHT

JORDAN KUHN | WEST UNION, IOWA

For Jordan Kuhn, the dairy industry wasn't always the "norm." Jordan grew up in West Union, IA learning about the dairy industry through his father and grandfather while they worked on the artificial insemination side of the industry. From there, he grew to love show cattle from his time spent with the Lansing family, where he was able to lease heifers until he purchased his first two Milking Shorthorns in the spring of 2018. He now owns and takes care of his own heifers as well as exhibiting them at state and national shows.

This year, Jordan was no stranger to success with his heifer, KuhnKun Moscato EXP. She first made her impact by being his first home bred heifer, and by the end of the show season, she was the favorite amongst the judges at the North American International Livestock Expo as she was named the Supreme Champion Heifer of both the junior and open shows. This heifer made her impact as she was also the first heifer Jordan was able to show at World Dairy Expo, his first class winner on the colored shavings, and first Unanimous All- American.

Though Jordan will be closing the chapter of his junior show career, he intends to stay involved through showing Milking Shorthorns, and growing his herd of high type, balanced, and productive cows. Outside of the dairy industry, Jordan works in the custom application industry, along with fertilizer and chemical distribution.

THE COUNCIL ON DAIRY CATTLE BREEDING

By: KATIE SCHMITT

As the new year begins, many of us have set time aside to identify goals for the year or simply a word of the year. This newer trend of selecting one word to guide a year has quickly become my favorite tactic for personal and professional development.

While my word isn't important for all of you, the 2024 word of the year that I have picked out for the Council on Dairy Cattle Breeding is – Collaboration.

Collaboration has always been a part of the foundation of CDCB as it works to provide the dairy industry with independent, pre-competitive genetic evaluations. It takes healthy collaborations with dairy farmers, breed associations, milk testing organizations, dairy record processing centers, genomic nominators, and bull studs to keep the system strong and robust.

Placing collaboration at the center of CDCB outreach priorities in 2024 reinforces the work started in 2023 with the formation of the program and the dedication to the Dairy Breed Improvement Collaboration I've written about in the past.

While collaboration guides us forward into 2024, if we were to retroactively select a word for 2023, a case could be made for "Haplotype." This word popped up over and over again last year with the discovery of a new condition in Holsteins and as the selected topic of the panel discussion at the 2023 CDCB Industry Meeting (a recording of the discussion is available on YouTube).

While the term haplotype was used and seen over and over again, many may still find themselves questioning what it means and how it applies to dairy cattle genetics. Let's break it down.

WHAT IS A HAPLOTYPE?

To understand haplotypes, we first need to recognize that DNA consists of base pairs. A haplotype for a genomically tested animal is a short section of DNA – or a sequence of those base pairs – inherited together from an animal's sire or dam. If you cut up the strand of DNA into bits, each bit would be a haplotype if it is more than one base pair and the whole segment is inherited from either the mother or father.

In genotyping, we read genetic markers – most often single-nucleotide polymorphisms (SNPs) instead of individual base pairs – scattered across an animal's genome. Therefore, when we refer to a haplotype for a genomically tested animal, we are talking about a sequence of SNPs, which signifies a piece of DNA inherited from either sire or dam.

Collaboration

HOW ARE HAPLOTYPES USED?

Haplotype matching allows for the discovery of ancestors in cases where animals' parentage was unknown or questionable. Haplotype analysis is also used to identify genetic conditions that impact expression of specific phenotypic features. Sometimes this is a desired expression, like polled or coat color. In other cases, those conditions are detrimental or even lethal. In the past decade, several haplotype calls that affect fertility, embryo death and stillbirth, for example, have been discovered and reported. In Ayrshires, there are a few genetic conditions that are tracked and reported using haplotype calls including AHC (Curly Calf), AH1 and AH2. Genetic conditions are not currently identified using haplotypes in Milking Shorthorns due to the lack of the required reference population.

WHAT ABOUT DIRECT GENE TESTS?

Sometimes confusion around understanding genetic conditions is linked to the type of tool or test utilized to identify conditions. While haplotype calls for genetic conditions are a part of the genomic evaluation process and included in all genomic testing for cost-efficiency, direct gene tests are also often available. This type of testing is routinely used on high profile animals and males who are marketed for A.I. use. Direct gene tests have a higher accuracy rate and can be used to identify additional conditions not currently included in haplotype calls like A2A2. Direct gene tests do come at an additional cost, but the results can be published on official pedigrees.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Haplotypes and haplotype calls will continue to be discussed as our use and understanding of the process continues to grow. There have been a few articles published on this topic recently that go into further detail if you want to learn more. "The infamous haplotypes: Are they really all that bad?" written by Sophie Eaglen, Ph.D., for Progressive Dairy and "Haplotype calls for genetic factors: What are they and how do they impact cattle breeding?" written by Ezequiel Nicolazzi, Ph.D., for Hoard's Dairyman Intel. ■

From the NATIONAL AYRSHIRE AMBASSADOR

Hello everyone, my name is Lydia Rasmussen!

I am the daughter of Erik and Jeanine Rasmussen, and reside in Seymour, WI. I am currently a student at the University of Wisconsin - River Falls, where I am majoring in Pre - Veterinary Science, with an emphasis on Dairy Science. While living at school, I love being involved in the community and even working with the local schools' sports teams. I am also an active member in the UWRF Dairy Club! This upcoming spring, I am very excited to be on the Sale Committee for our annual UW River Falls Dairy Sale. While I'm home from school, I spend my spare time working at my family's Supper Club, Krabbe's Supper Club, and spending time with my family. I am also involved in the Shawano County Ag. Ambassadors. This organization is an amazing group for students involved in agriculture to make a difference in our communities through community service.

My story within the dairy industry is slightly different from others. I began showing Holsteins through a leasing program which led me to gain my knowledge of daily care and show care at a young age. After a few years of showing Holsteins, my heart was drawn to Ayrshires. I was lucky enough to get connected with Tim and Katie Busch to learn about the ins and outs of the breed. While showing for the Buschs', I grew very fond of a Spring Calf named Grand-View Doublewhammy Berry. We grew to become a great pair, and I spent almost all my time with her. While taking care of Berry, she connected me to our wonderful breed. In time I began wanting to grow my own herd of Red and White Holsteins and Ayrshires. In the past few years, my mother and I were able to create JL Royal Ruby Genetics. We wanted our name to represent the growth and unity we have had throughout our journey.

In my short time leasing and owning cattle in the Ayrshire breed, I have had over 10 All-American and Junior All-American nominations. Starting as a "Lease Kid", I looked up to those around me showing me the ins and outs of this one-of-a-kind industry. My fondest memories growing up and even today are going to shows, mingling with old friends, and always meeting new people to share memories from.

I am currently serving as the Wisconsin Junior Ayrshire President, as well as one of the National Ayrshire Ambassadors. With these positions, I have been able to connect with breeders and enthusiasts who share the same passion for not only Ayrshires, but agriculture in its entirety. Over this past summer, I was able to represent the breed at many different events and shows including the Midwest National Ayrshire Show, Wisconsin State Ayrshire Show, WI State Fair, and the World Dairy Expo! My fondest moments of the year have been when the WI Junior Ayrshire Board and I were able to hold a showmanship clinic as well as a fun corn hole tournament at the Midwest National Show. The event allowed us to bring all juniors together for a fun competition and grow our knowledge in showmanship skills.

A close second was representing the breed in the middle of the ring at the Wisconsin State Fair. I was able to sit alongside some of the best females in the dairy industry with similar leadership roles, as well as seeing old and new friends to create memories in the ring. Last was all the incredible moments at World Dairy Expo. During Expo, I was able to witness the best of the best not only in the Ayrshire breed, but in the industry while handing out ribbons in the ring. Conversations with members of the breed during the sale, and seeing those closest to me have incredible years in the ring.

As the show year is coming to an end, I want to congratulate everyone on yet another amazing show season! I look forward to seeing you all at the annual convention in Ohio!

*Sincerely,
Lydia Rasmussen*

WHIPPING UP SUCCESS IN & OUT OF THE KITCHEN

Sweet O'Hearts Confectionary is Brian Nailor's mobile bakery that has been years of hard work and dedication in the making!

By Sarah Thomas

For some, it takes their entire life to discover a passion. Others unearth that passion along their journey. A select few not only recognize more than one passion along the way, they turn those into a livelihood of purpose.

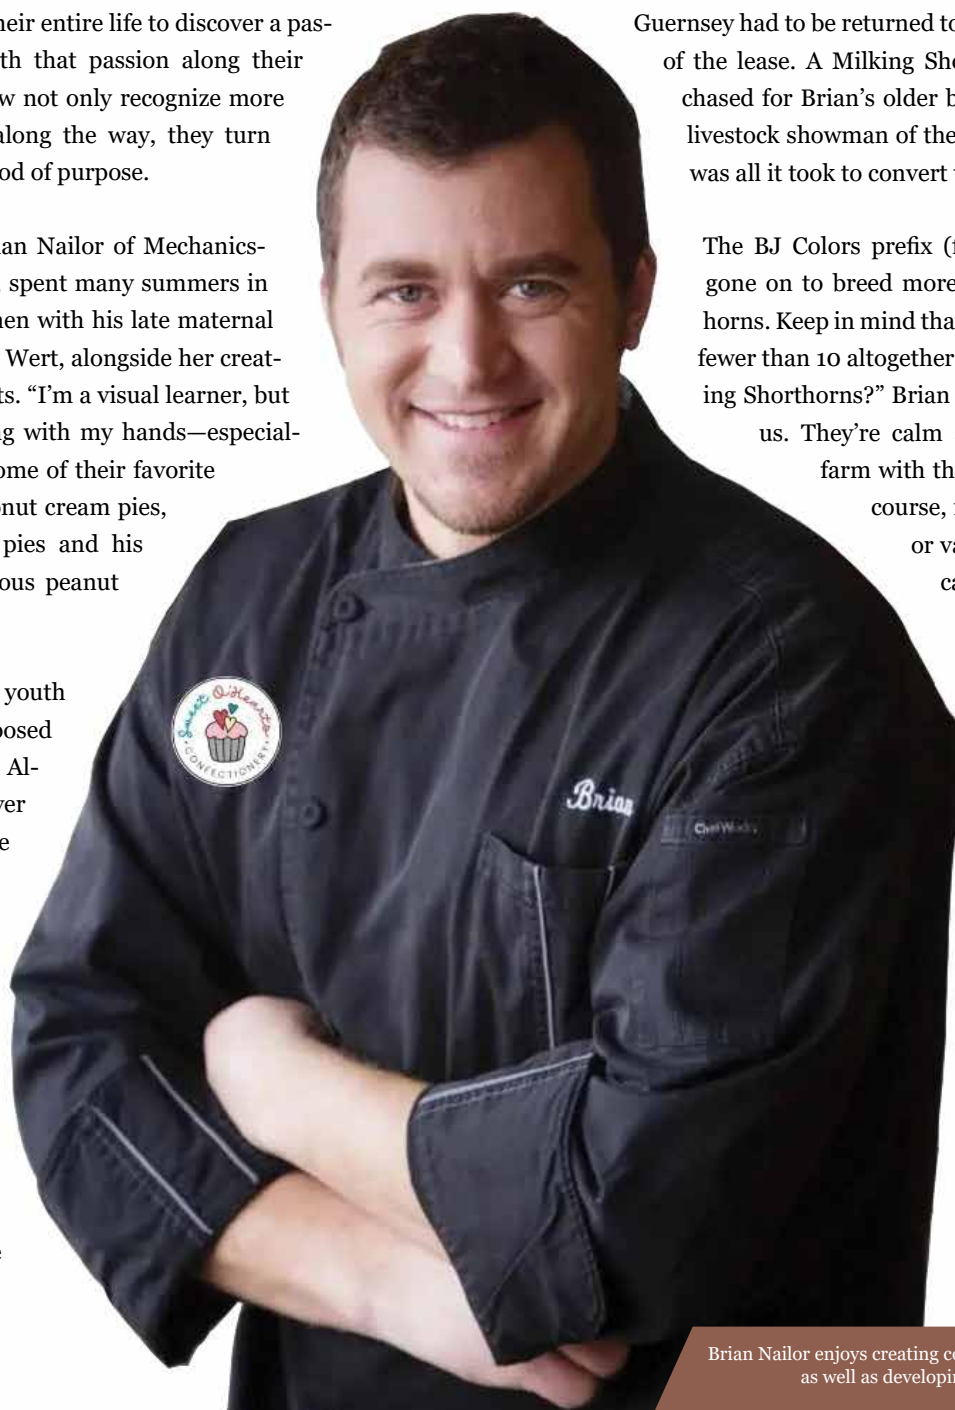

As a youngster, Brian Nailor of Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, spent many summers in and out of the kitchen with his late maternal grandmother, Betty Wert, alongside her creating and baking treats. "I'm a visual learner, but I also enjoy working with my hands—especially food," he said. Some of their favorite creations were coconut cream pies, pumpkin whoopie pies and his grandmother's famous peanut butter fudge.

It was also in his youth that Brian was exposed to agriculture. Although he has never lived on a farm, he joined 4-H at eight years old to begin showing dairy cattle. When he started, he owned a Jersey and leased a Guernsey heifer. The Jersey went on to have nine bulls and the Guernsey had to be returned to the breeder upon the end of the lease. A Milking Shorthorn was initially purchased for Brian's older brother, Jason, the former livestock showman of the duo - and that one heifer was all it took to convert them to the breed.

The BJ Colors prefix (for Brian and Jason) has gone on to breed more than 150 Milking Shorthorns. Keep in mind that the brothers have bought fewer than 10 altogether. When asked, "Why Milking Shorthorns?" Brian said, "They adapt well for us. They're calm and nestle right into the farm with the climate and housing. Of course, it's fun to see what all color variations you can get from calf to calf, too."

The operation, named J&S Dairy, came to fruition after a dairy farming neighbor decided to change occupations. Jason purchased the existing herd in addition to animals he and Brian had housed at other facilities. The neighbor rose to the position of landlord, and Jason continues to rent the milking facilities at that operation today.

Brian Nailor enjoys creating confectionaries as well as developing great cows.

Crop farming keeps the Nailor family busy come harvest time. Just last year, Brian made his debut at the New York Spring Milking Shorthorn Show. His senior three-year-old, BJ Colors L Strike Noble P, not only won her class but went on to be named Reserve Intermediate Champion and Honorable Mention Grand Champion. Noble was also nominated All-American, making her the third Milking Shorthorn to be nominated under the BJ Colors prefix.

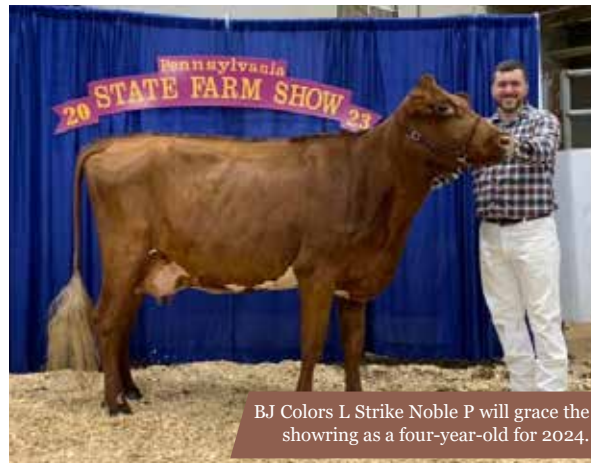

Another proud memory for Brian was selling a heifer to a 4-Her approximately seven years ago that went on to be nominated All-American.

THE SWEET SIDE

To celebrate their parents' 25th wedding anniversary in 2001, the brothers decided to recreate their wedding cake. It was in this process that Brian's interest for baking was reignited. You see, in 2007 he graduated from culinary school at YTI Career Institute in Lancaster. In addition to his associate's degree in Culinary Arts/Restaurant Management, he also received the President's Award, an honor given to only one student per graduating class.

It was also in college that Brian appeared on the Food Network channel in an episode of "Dinner: Impossible," hosted by renowned celebrity chef Robert Irvine. Toward the end of his time at YTI on a class trip in Pittsburgh, he was asked what he was doing on a particular upcoming day. "I said I didn't have anything planned, and was told to be at the Pennsylvania governor's residence at 5:30 AM that morning," he recalled. "When I showed up, I learned that this was for a TV show on Food Net-

"I was one of four students from school chosen for this, so that was pretty special. The concept was based off 'Mission: Impossible,' where we had so many hours to complete a task, and our task was to prepare 12,000 mini appetizers for about 4,000 people."

BJ Colors L Strike Noble P will grace the showing as a four-year-old for 2024.

Brian's nieces (from L-R), Jayce, Joleigh and Jordyn Nailor, have picked up the bug for Milking Shorthorns just like their dad and uncle!

Upon graduation, he worked seven years for a catering company in addition to remaining hands-on at the farm.

Morphing a passion into a dream and then into reality is something Brian does not take lightly. "I want my own small bake shop," he said. "Before Covid, I either wanted to have a food truck or a 'brick-and-mortar' shop. After studying and thinking about the flow of traffic in a business and how to best reach customers, I decided on a food trailer."

The business, Sweet O'Hearts Confectionery, is a mobile bakery where Brian is able to let his talents shine bright. He offers customized menus for events and favors the idea of unique twists on indulgent desserts. For example, one idea is a peach cobbler cone instead of the traditional waffle cone. The sky is the limit, as Brian has a network built from his years of catering and working in the food industry.

His work brings the "farm to table" concept to life. "It's awesome to see the process from start to finish. We're crop farmers, we milk cows and I'm a chef that's able to present these products to consumers." As for the Milking Shorthorns, the goal is to keep breeding quality animals to show and sell, with the intention of one day showing at World Dairy Expo.

Brian is always busy, whether it's whippin' up a dessert or the next foundational BJ Colors Milking Shorthorn!

DIVERSIFYING THEIR WAY TO SUCCESS

By Melissa Hart

Education, passion, and the ability to stare down risk and not blink are the qualities that drive Eric and Taylor Bogardus as they make their way in an industry that isn't always farmer friendly. Their diversified farm, Locust Spring Farm, in Sloansville, New York is where they spend their time keeping the plates spinning and the Ayrshire herd developing.

Eric and Taylor met in college, Eric was from a dairy farm and Taylor was a horse enthusiast who had worked on dairy farms. "I grew up on a standardbred breeding farm and showed and rode all over the east coast from New York to Florida, I had only worked on dairies and then got really involved when I was an undergrad at SUNY Cobleskill where I met Eric," Taylor explained.

After college they married and in 2016, they bought the herd of cows from Eric's parents and began Locust Spring Farm. They work 150 acres at Eric's parents farm, 45 acres at their farm and they picked up an extra 200 rented acres to produce all their own feed for their herd that consists of 70 milking and dry females. "About 60 percent of our herd is Registered Ayrshires, 40 percent are Registered Holsteins, and we board a few Brown Swiss, Guernseys, and Jerseys," Taylor said.

The barn has 125 tie-stalls where 88 stalls are under the pipeline. The herd is fed a TMR of balage, dry hay, corn silage, high moisture corn, a purchased protein/mineral mix and small grains and they top dress according to production. "Our goal is to raise all of our own feed and this year we are planning on planting soybeans so we can have our own roasted soybeans as well."

All the heifers are raised on the farm for replacements and the bull calves are fed out to sell in their farm store. "In our Ayrshire herd we breed for show type because we are involved in showing from the local to the national level, but our main source of income is still milk, so we have to have production and longevity to be able to compete with the Holsteins." She continued, "The Holsteins can be bred and fed for higher components, so the Ayrshires have to keep up with them. But we put a big emphasis on marketable genetics so we can have that extra stream of diversified income."

WHERE DID THE AYRSHIRES COME FROM?

In the mid-1980s Eric's father received a couple of Ayrshire calves for payment for helping a local farmer at a show and in 1994 they began milking cows and Ayrshires were purchased to increase cow numbers. Eric had his first project Ayrshire heifer calf in 1996.

Since they began classifying in 2012, they have developed over 40 excellent cows. Their first All-American nomination came in 2009 with a Reserve All-American and Junior All-American Fall Yearling in Milk, Locust-Spring Raven Extra. Since then, they have had 13 additional All-American and Junior All-American nominations.

Eric and Taylor work side by side on the farm with little help, but they also find time to exhibit cattle and see it as an important part of marketing genetics. Submitted photo

Their sire selection includes Autograph, Reynolds, Beast, Milo, Redemption, Melios, Wisher, Kingsire, B-King, and three or their own bulls that they have collected; Premium, Nightcap and Perfecta. As a teenager, Eric started paying attention to the bull selection and mating cows to really improve on udder traits. Taylor explained, "Eric makes all of the breeding decisions, and his biggest thing is not just picking the latest and greatest but analyzing the maternal family line and looking for the specifics of what he needs to make the next generation better. He doesn't choose a bull because it's on the back cover of a magazine."

With a keen eye for cattle and experience not only on his collegiate judging team but judging at the national level, Eric wants to see the proof in the pudding of his own herd.

THE COW FAMILIES

Their most predominant cow family is the "T" Family that stems from one of the original purchases in 1994, Alpha-Ayrshires Comet Thelma. She had a daughter sired by Trident who in turn had a Visserdale Skybuck daughter, Locust-Spring Skybuck Trixie who would become a tremendous brood cow and the foundation of today's herd. Trixie lived to be 13.5 years old and only saw a classifier once shortly after her 11th birthday and scored EX-93 that day. She would end up with six daughters by six different bulls, four scored EX the remaining two were VG-88 and at one time all six were in the herd together with her.

They have 30 animals in the current herd that trace directly back to Trixie including her youngest daughter Burdette Trixie EX-92 2E who is due again this spring at 10 years old. A Trixie granddaughter was a class winner at WDE in 2010 and three other descendants have been nominated All-American at least once. Currently in the herd is a 4th generation EX predator daughter, Predator Tuaca, from this family, she was nominated All-American as a summer yearling in 2017 and was the second generation to be nominated All-American. Tuaca has an exciting Melios daughter and will be IVF'd later this year.

This year's Junior Reserve All-American and Reserve All American Winter Yearling, Locust-Spring Re Twist is also a descendent of this family along with Locust-Spring RG TikiBar that has been nominated twice, as a winter calf and senior 2-year-old.

Another family they are building from is their 'P' family that traces back to Sunny-Acres Jerichos Princess. A group of cattle they purchased in 2013 had three from this family, a pair of Trident full sisters that would both become EX cows along with a Ramius that ended up EX-92, Davis Ramius Pork. She has a Reagan daughter that is now EX-91, completing five generations of EX cows. They have Autograph daughters on the ground from the Reagan and also have semen available from her Kingsire son that should make exciting calves as he's +1.0 of type and a haplotype free Kingsire.

They have a small group that they are developing in the herd that hail from Bonnie Brae Kineta including a 4E-92 Berkley. She has two daughters in the herd, an EX Kingsire and a Lloyd springing 2-year-old. Although she never produced daughters for them, the 2013 Reserve Intermediate Champion at World Dairy Expo, DVC Potter Paprika is still impacting the herd for Eric and Taylor through her Gibbs son, Perfecta by putting on tremendous udders on his offspring.

The current Ayrshire herd is 100% homebred excluding 1 young cow owned in partnership with our great friends at Sunny Acres. There are 31 cows: 11EX, 10VG and 5GP, three being 1st lactation that make up the herd at the moment. "We're excited to classify in April as we have a great group of up-and-coming young cows and some strong older cows that weren't fresh when we scored last summer," Eric stated.

While Eric's dad helps with the crop work and they have an occasional student from SUNY Cobleskill, Taylor and Eric are the only labor on the farm.

MAPLETON VALLEY FARMS

as Featured with Foremost Farms USA

Pat and Phyllis Agnew and family continue a five-generation farming legacy at Mapleton Valley Farms in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, with their 55-cow dairy operation. Their small farm has deep roots in the local community in the heart of America's Dairyland, and they've even branched out internationally with their dairy endeavors.

Their practice of international herd breeding dates to the 1960's with Phyllis's father, Willard, when he introduced Australian Illawarra Shorthorn genetics into their dairy farm just 30 miles from the current operation. "We bred a bull used in the UK, Australia, and New Zealand," Phyllis said. Last summer, the Agnews welcomed two new calves born on their farm from embryos imported from Australia.

"It's awesome, educational and enjoyable having an international connection with so many fellow dairymen," Phyllis said. "My daughter, Katie, made a few trips to visit friends in Australia, and we have hosted student trainees and dairy farmers from Australia, the UK, Japan Sweden, Italy, Germany and the Netherlands. Learning goes both ways."

The Agnews special interest in Milking Shorthorns has been a successful endeavor. They are involved in the American Milking Shorthorn Society (AMSS); Pat served as an AMSS Director and Katie is in her second term as National Director for AMSS. Pat and Phyllis's son, Tom, has judged shows at the local and national level for AMSS. Several All-American Milking Shorthorn winners have emerged from their herd of production-tested and classified cattle. In 2017, the Agnews' 7-year-old Milking Shorthorn bred on their farm won the Wisconsin Cow of the Year Award.

The family is involved in agriculture in many ways. After living their childhood on the family farm, Katie and Tom became third generation UW-Madison alumni, following in the footsteps of their mother and her father who attended the UW Ag Short Course. Katie teaches at a large urban high school, where she advocated for the addition of an Agricultural Science class that started in 2020. Tom has his own business but also does custom crop work. Tom's two children help their grandparents on the farm and participate in 4-H and showed cattle at county and state fairs and the World Dairy Expo this year.

The Agnew family works as a team to ensure the smooth operation of Mapleton Valley Farm, each playing an integral role. In addition to the regular farm duties that Pat and Phyllis undertake on the farm, Katie helps with milking and Tom with crop management. "There's nothing better than working with family. It is not always easy, but that's how we grow," Phyllis said. They also have appreciated the relationship with their Foremost Farms field reps in the past, and they are looking forward to building that same relationship with Brian Ulness, their recently assigned Foremost Farms field. "We appreciate the connection they provide to the cooperative."

Mapleton Valley Farms produces their own alfalfa, soybeans, corn, wheat and winter rye for forage. They also raise their own cattle replacements, making sure to expose calves to headlocks for ease of handling. "All dairy folks will agree that a special passion is needed to raise cattle; that's what drives us to keep going every day," Phyllis said.

In the last several years, the Agnews made improvements to Mapleton Valley Farm, including the addition of free stalls and tie stalls where cows are milked. "We added a sealed storage unit, and as with all dairies, tried to repair and preserve what we can," Phyllis said.

It's gratifying for the Agnews to hear from people that 'if I was a cow, I would want to live here' on their beautiful farm. With the urban expansion in their community, the Agnews work hard to give rural farming a good look. "We're not big, but we are able to continue in a way that still fits our neighborhood. It's important to us that the 4,000 cars passing by our farm every day get a positive impression of agriculture," Phyllis said.

CHOOSING TO DIVERSIFY

Taylor's career path took her down the road of an Ag Educator at Schoharie school district that she enjoyed, but wanting to give 100 percent to the farm, they conceived the idea of a farm store that would add an income stream that justified her staying home full time. "We were paying college students to do my work on the farm and when we did the math on it, it wasn't worth paying someone to replace me," she said.

Covid produced the opportunity to create a customer base for their beef and pork and in 2023 they had the local high school construction tech class build a small building to house their self-serve Locust Spring Farm Store. "We ran electric to it from the barn, and we started with a folding table, one small fridge and an upright freezer and it's gradually transformed into every inch of usable space filled with coolers, freezers and shelf space with local products." She continued, "And we have continued to increase the number of steers, hogs and now chickens, much to Eric's demise, but they are profitable little 'cluckers.'"

In addition to the beef, pork and chicken they also carry milk from a local creamery, butters, cheeses, jams, jellies, coffee, honey, weekly bakery products, holiday treats, soup mixes, pierogis, pasta, pizza, juices, spices, sauces, pickles, yogurt, candles, bagels, ice cream, and anything else Taylor can source locally. She notes there is one thing she would change with the farm store if she could do it over it again, "I would build it bigger. Any time I bring in a new product in Eric says, 'Where are you going to put that? Hang it from the ceiling?'"

Eric and Taylor have a daughter, Addie who enjoys her own time in the show ring with her heifer from Burdette Trixie named 'Turtle.' They also have an extensive lease program with local 4-H and FFA youth leasing anywhere from 4-8 heifers per year to get more youth involved in agriculture and especially the Ayrshire breed.

The next two years include installing a robotic milking system, "We would like to retro fit the barn for robots and create box stalls under the pipeline for show cows or for older cows who may not do well in the robots," Taylor mentioned. They would also like to use a few Ayrshires to capitalize on selling Ayrshire cream line milk. ■

Pride

Wow! I love the pride that comes with the All-American contest. Each entry represents the goals and aspirations of breeders and owners, and was the source of many good times with family and friends. I love the camaraderie that show season brings for our juniors and seasoned veterans alike. It's rewarding to watch animals and exhibitors get better with time.

The All-American contest is one way to gauge breed improvement with the increase in quality over time. The top six animals in every class represent some deep pedigrees with generations of Excellent cows AND multiple generations of production above breed average. We had entries in this year's contest with proven production nearing 40,000M. Some of the heifers are also leading the heifer index list. Isn't it amazing to look back over the last 10-20 years of the All-American contest to see how far we've come? Who says Ayrshire cows can't show and milk!

Ayrshire pride was also on display at our recent online nextGENeration Sale. The quality of consignments was amazing! The high-selling embryos for $800 each was Lot 5, Burdette x Heineman Kingsire Cold Brew, EX-90. Cold Brew was the 2023 Unanimous All-American Sr. 3-Year-Old with over 20,000M at 2-04. (Again with All-American pride!) The embryos were consigned by Angela Fuller of Attica, NY and purchased by Diana Parker of Edmeston, NY. The second high-selling embryo lot was Distinction x Carvella, EX-95. Carvella was the 2023 Reserve All-American Component Merit cow with records to 30,000M. These embryos were consigned by Peter Vail, Englewood, FL and purchased by Michael Maier, Stitzer, WI.

A highlight of the sale was the rights to an IVF session for Cedarcut Burdette Clove Colata, EX-94 3E. There hasn't been much offered from this cow family, and Kurt Wolf of Epworth, IA was the lucky winner of the final bid at $3,000. Colata has records over 33,000M and numerous All-American and national show accolades to her credits. The flush session was consigned by Erin Curtis Szalach of Cazenovia, NY.

The high-selling pick of flush at $3,250 was purchased by Ryan Hudson of Horse Cave, KY. This choice of September 2024 calves was consigned by Michael Maloney of North Bangor, NY. This is a great pedigree with a fun selection of out-cross genetics. The sire is Deer-Hill Sharp Dressed Man, a Reagan son backed by generations of EX-94 dams with high production. His third dam is none other than Sweet-Pepper Black Francesca, a two-time World Dairy Expo grand champion. The maternal side is also packed with proven performers. The dam is VG-88 @ 2-08 and projected to finish her 2-year-old record with over 22,000M. The granddam is an EX-93 All-American.

In a bit of personal news, I gave the ABA Board of Directors my resignation on January 2nd. Time has flown by since then, and my days in the office have come to an end. It's been my privilege to work for Ayrshire people and the Ayrshire breed. I've had so many great experiences in my life because of this "job", and will forever be grateful. I will always be a supporter and friend of Ayrshire breeders. I'll look forward to seeing you at the upcoming national convention in Ohio June 18-21!

Wishing you all the best,

Becky
